Project Rendering

Project Narrative

Barthman Family Homes will deliver 150 high-quality, affordable homes for families earning 30–70% of AMI on Columbus's South Side, preserving long-term affordability as growth advances along the S. High Street corridor. The project has been thoughtfully designed to feature more three- and four-bedroom apartments to meet local demand and directly respond to community need. Located within an established neighborhood near public transit, schools, and job centers—and just a short ride from downtown—the development will transform a brownfield site through over $5 million in environmental remediation. Residents will enjoy modern amenities including a fitness center, playground, community space, and ample parking. If awarded, the development is in a position to submit final for final application within two weeks of award announcements.
